SUNDAYSCHOOL SQUIRS.

a delegation from Columbus, Ky. The DuQuoin delegation, one hundred strong, and the Charleston delegation, arrived in the morning at 4 o'clock. The others arrived later in the day. At 11 o'clock a procession formed on Ohio Levee, between Sixth and Eighth streets, and headed by the Columbus colored brass band, proceeded down the Levee to the St. Charles; down Second street to Commercial avenue; up Commercial avenue to Twentieth street; out Twentieth street to Washington avenue and down Washington avenue to Eighth street and out Eighth street to School's garden, where dinner was served, and the afternoon spent in feasting, music and oratory. The marshal of the day was Ed. Braxton, assisted by Wm. Allensworth, of Paducah. J. J. Bird, M. W. G. M., occupied the place of honor in the procession.

The quantity of pork and other improper food consumed is enormous and produces its inevitable results in innumerable types of disease, especially those of the blood, exhibited in pimples, blotches, sores, etc., all of which, however, yield rapidly and surely to Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

Go AND see the large arrival of new goods at the lowest prices ever seen at Stuart's popular Dry Goods House.

I WILL sell on easy terms my farm situated in Pulaski county, containing One Hundred and Sixty Acres in cultivation, good improvements, in all respects; situated three miles northeast of Caledonia.

MATHIE ROACH.

MONDAY morning, June 24th, I will offer full lines of Muslins, Sheetings, Towelings, Tickings, Table Linens and Napkins, which I have just received from the recent large peremptory Dry Goods sales in New York. We are determined that the people in Cairo will receive all the benefits which the market for Dry Goods offers. A visit of inspection is solicited.

STUART, Eighth Street.

A FACT.—Mr. Robert Kuehner, at present in the employ of Mr. Wm. Alba, and Mr. Henry Rudolph also at Mr. Alba's shop, are spoken of by those who patronize them as being exceptions to many in their line of business. They are first-class workmen, polite in their attention to customers, and leave nothing undone that would contribute to the comfort of their patrons. Alba has had the experience, and knows just how to run a tinsorial establishment.

CHOW-CHOW.

[A Miscellaneous Collection of Jottings Gathered Here and There.]

—How about that bonded indebtedness meeting?

—Miss Lucy Bagg, daughter of Judge Bagg, of Blandville, is in the city, the guest of Miss Lucy Willson.

—Grand Master Bird was complimented with a serenade yesterday afternoon by the Columbus colored brass band.

—It is a pleasure to us to be able to state that Rev. Dillion Lee is recovering, and will shortly be able to assume his duties.

—Score one for Cairo. Our association nine beat the Anna club two runs in a match game played yesterday. Who's the next victim?

—Rev. Mr. George paid Burklow a visit in his cell yesterday, and the latter in speaking of it afterward, was very grateful for it. The reverend gentleman promised to call again.

—Chas. Moore, a painter in the employ of Mr. B. F. Blake, while engaged at his work on Mr. T. W. Halliday's new house, fell twenty-five feet, the ladder breaking under him and precipitating him to the ground. He sustained some bad bruises, but they are not of a dangerous character.

—A meeting of the members of the Ascalon Lodge, K. of P., will be held in the lodgeroom to-night of the Odd-Fellows, for the purpose of reorganization. The proper instructions and authority have been received. The meeting will be held at 7½ o'clock, sharp.

—Cadet Midshipman George Clarke, of this district, after being admitted into the third class at the United States Naval academy, has returned home on a visit to his uncle, Mr. Matthew Clarke. He will leave next Saturday for Annapolis; from there he leaves with his class on a cruise to the Paris exposition.

—Yesterday Capt. W. P. Halliday tendered the use of one of his tugs to about twenty-five of his colored employees, from St. John, who were in the city celebrating St. John's day. They were empowered to extend this invitation to their friends, and the party as made up took an excursion down the river on the tug, highly enjoying themselves.

—Burklow wrote a letter to Sheriff Carter yesterday, asking that officer to have him removed to Vienna a few days before his execution, that he might have the company of his little seven year old daughter previous to his death. Lindley Murray might have been ashamed of it, but it was eloquent with the love and affection of a parent, and would move a heart of stone to pity.

—We were yesterday shown by Mr. Wm. Loneragan a specimen of the first flour in the Cairo market ground from this year's wheat. It came from the mills of Messrs. Armstrong & Porter, at New Grand Chain, on the line of the Cairo and Vincennes railroad.

road. It is excellent in color, flavor and quality, and creditable to the New Grand Chain millers. Mr. Loneragan did a good stroke of enterprise in securing the consignment.

—The dedication of the Odd Fellow's cemetery at Vienna, Sunday, was attended by delegations from towns along the line of the Cairo and Vincennes road, and by the people of Vienna and the neighboring country. A procession of Odd Fellows formed in front of the hall of the order at Vienna, and in that line moved out to the cemetery grounds. The day was hot, but the fine shade on the grounds afforded relief to the large crowd from the rays of the sun. An organ was placed on the stand under an arbor, and a number of young ladies furnished some excellent vocal music. After formal exercises by officers of the lodge, Mr. Oberly was introduced and delivered an address on the objects of Odd Fellowship, the duties of its members, and the good work it has accomplished for humanity. He concluded by reading Bryant's "Thanatopsis." After the close of the dedication services, the contents of well-filled baskets were spread on pleasant spots and the luxury of a substantial luncheon in the open air enjoyed. The trip was throughout delightful.

—The excursion and basket picnic to Jonesboro, given under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity of this city, was the biggest thing of its kind that ever went out of Cairo, and had it been generally known that the Narrow Gauge road could have supplied the transportation, it would have been much larger. As it was thirteen cars went out crowded with people. A careful estimate made by a gentleman in a position to know, places the number of people who left town on the train at one thousand. Jonesboro was reached without a mishap of any kind, and once there the pic-nickers enjoyed themselves as their fancies led. Of course a tip-top time was had. On the return an incident having a laughable termination occurred. When near the wash on the Mississippi levee the engine struck an unknown woman and threw her from the track. The train was instantly stopped. Of course the usual cry of horror arose from the fair members of the pleasure-seeking band, but when the supposed crushed victim arose from her reclining position, shook her skirts and walked off, there was a breath of general relief. It was the only thing in the nature of an accident occurring during the day.

DARING HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

[Four Midnight Prowlers Ravage the "Garrote" in Cairo.]

Last night, about 12 o'clock, as Mr. J. T. Ridley, of Stonecourt, was passing along Fourth street, between Washington and Commercial avenues, he was accosted by four colored fellows, one of whom bade him "good evening." The evening, however, proved to be one of the worst for poor Ridley, for the next moment the speaker muffled his mouth, the arms of two more of the robbers encircled his neck and held his arms, while a fourth drew from his pocket a pocket-book containing nearly $24, and jerked from his fob a silver watch and chain. In the scuffle Ridley, who is a tall man, was thrown down and lay lamely kicking sturdily, with his body beneath the black gang, unable to protest, while whispers of "punch him in the wind!" "kill de bloke!" entered his wide-open ears with startling suggestions. The negroes having stolen everything in Mr. Ridley's possession, including an old tobacco-knife, slipped into the darkness west of Commercial avenue, and the victim ran into the Cairo and Vincennes railroad station. Special Policeman Cooper hurried to the scene and found Ridley's hat; and he says the man's dusty appearance and wildness of manner, together with the loss of his hat in that dismal locality, afforded sufficient evidence of his being robbed. The garrotes took advantage of the noise made by the 12:10 Illinois Central train, or Cooper might have had a hard time of it. The insufficiency of light in that portion of the city gives no little courage to these lumps of darkness.

THANKS.—To Mr. Fne, superintendent; Mr. Tom Whitlock, passenger agent; Mr. J. W. Warden, head engineer, and Mr. Jas. Lawson, fireman, to whose efforts are due the carrying of the large throng of excursionists to and from Jonesboro without accident, the thanks of the gentlemen having the affair in charge are tendered. They certainly earned them, for their care and watchfulness during the entire trip was untiring.

GRAND RAFFLE.—Tickets for the raffle of the Hibernal engine house and two lots (property worth over five hundred dollars) are now ready for sale and may be had of members of the company. Tickets are also for sale at different business houses throughout the city. The drawing will take place in the new engine house July 4, 1878, and will be under the direct supervision of Messrs. T. W. Halliday, R. H. Cunningham and Sol. A. Silver. Tickets, $1.

THE RIVERS.

The river is declining again, but if Prof. Tice is correct in his predictions we need not look for low water for awhile yet. The weather for 48 hours has been fine but there is a prospect of another storm soon. Business dull.

The Enterprise and Greyhound have towed coal for the south.

The Thomas Sherlock, Commonwealth and Paris C. Brown were all well laden for New Orleans.

The J. D. Parker has 715 sacks oat meal, 324 bales cotton, 30,000 feet of lumber, 174 sacks corn and 767 sacks wheat for Cincinnati. The wheat is new and was shipped by Capt. Tom Tarr of Wolfe Island.

Jack Sugar, engineer of the tug Natch, was garroted on Sunday night under the Narrow Gauge depot as he was going to the tug. One man caught him around the neck while another went through his pockets, robbing him of 75 cents.

The Paris C. Brown remained so short a time at the wharf-boat that the Duke was unable to collect her wharfage. She is a fine looking boat.

Captain Tom Tarr, of Wolfe Island, is in the city.

The grandest thing out is the St. Louis excursion, next Thursday, June 27.

WANTED.—A good cook, and also a nurse girl. Apply to Mrs. R. W. Miller, Seventh street.

TICKETS for the St. Louis excursion for sale at B. F. Parker's Book Store for $4.50 round trip.

QUERY.—Why will men smoke common tobacco when they can buy Marburg Bro's "Seal of North Carolina" at the same price?
